What is it?

TruAloe is the finest Aloe vera juice available from the "Father of Aloe" himself - our Founder, Clinton Howard. TruAloe contains only organic aloe leaves, carefully processed to ensure that you receive the true health benefits of this incredible plant.

The Aloe vera story

Aloe vera was used for thousands of years until synthetic drugs began to replace natural remedies. Many homes held on to their prized aloe plants, but we didn't know what made it effective until RBC Life's founder, Clinton Howard, began the first major research project to reveal the chemistry of aloe. His research led to the isolation of aloe's components and revealed to the world its numerous healthful properties.

Health benefits of natural aloe gel

Drinking aloe juice may help support the body's immune system in a profound way. Research shows that the Aloe vera plant holds a variety of immune supportive properties within its leaves. The active ingredients are the polysaccharides, particularly the acetylated mannans. Reports continue to reveal the healthful properties of these plant compounds including its ability to enhance our absorption of certain nutrients.*

Unfortunately, many aloe juices on the market are not effective because they are not processed properly. RBC Life brings you the finest, organic aloe vera juice available today. Our unique process retains the integrity of the rich aloe gel to ensure that you benefit from this legendary botanical. We process the freshly milled gel with proprietary methods to block the enzymatic breakdown of aloe. TruAloe is approved by the International Aloe Science Council who sets the standard for the aloe industry.
