

Income Disclosure Statement

RBC Life Members become a part of our family because they want to enjoy the benefits of our line of pure products at the best price possible. Once they learn about the culture of RBC Life and our mission to help people discover a healthier lifestyle, they may choose to share our products with others and find additional benefits by starting their own RBC Life business. Our compensation plan is designed to offer choices on which business level a Member decides based on their level of commitment and financial goals.

Members

Most RBC Life Members are loyal product users and are happy just to receive Member discounts on our products but currently have not chosen to pursue the business option RBC Life offers. The average RBC Life non-ranking Member earns $4 a month.

98% of all active RBC Life Members have not achieved a higher rank.

Builders

Some Members choose to build an RBC Life business with us. The incomes below represent the averages for each rank based on their monthly paid-as rank.

2% of all active RBC Life Members are ranked at Executive or above.

Average Monthly Income for all active Members in 2017

$1,013

Member Rank	Average Percentage of Total Grouping	Average Monthly Income	Average Annualized Income
Executive	40.2%	$215	$2,580
Senior Executive	24.8%	$364	$4,368
Director	20.2%	$844	$10,128
Bronze	10.5%	$2,686	$32,232
Silver	2.9%	$6,051	$72,612
Gold	1.2%	$13,352	$160,224
Platinum	0.1%	$20,835	$250,020
Crown	0.1%	$35,571	$426,852

2017 includes bonuses earned for the months January through December 2017. Bonuses were paid February 2017 through January 2018.

An active Member is a Member who has purchased in the previous 12 months.

Average annualized income is calculated by multiplying the average monthly income earned by Members qualifying for that rank in a given month by 12.